Six Students To Represent School At Model League

Santa Ana junior college is one of the fifteen colleges to take part in the model assembly of the League of Nations to be held at the University of Southern California tomorrow.

George Tobias, William Hewett, Felix Garnsey, Baxter Geeting, Harry Van Gorkum, and Albert Manson are the student representatives and L. L. Beeman, head of the social science department, is the faculty representative. Other representatives may join if they choose.

At the three sessions many interesting speakers will take a prominent part. Shimanuchi, the Japanese boy from Occidental who won second place in the national oratorical contest, will represent Japan and will speak for that country.

Henry Lin, a Chinese boy, will speak for China, and will nominate for their delegation Charles Evans Hughes of the United States for membership on the Permanent Court of International Justice.

Kennedy Holland, of Occidental college will take the part of Dr. Benes of Czechoslovakia in a report on arbitration, security, and reduction of armaments.

The dramatic scene of admitting Germany to the League will be enacted. The speech of Dr. Stressman will be delivered in German, translated into French and then into English as actually done at the League.

This model assembly of the League of Nations is one of the forty-seven to be held among the different colleges in the United States.

Santa Ana Grading Proved Very Strict

Dean McKee Fisk reports a number of interesting facts concerning former students of Santa Ana junior college. Of the 306 students who have graduated only 47 did not transfer to some other school. Out of 1,137 students who have earned credits here 49.6 per cent or 562 students have transferred to 10 other institutions of these 50.3 per cent have transferred to University of California, University of California at Los Angeles and University of Southern California.

Juniors Lions To Be Hosts At Convention

At a dinner meeting in Ketner's Gold Room on Monday evening, March 18, the Junior Lions decided to have the Junior Lions State convention in Santa Ana, May 17, and 18. There will be from 100 to 150 representatives here from all over the state. District Governor Wesley Jones and Dr. Willis, the founder of Junior Lionism, spoke at the meeting giving special emphasis to plans for the convention.

The club voted to have its picture in the Algol. A musical program by Jane Stewart and Dorothy McDonald concluded the meeting.

Tickets On Sale

Harry Van Gorkum has tickets for the model assembly of the League of Nations to be held at the University of Southern California, Thursday afternoon and evening, March 21. Any student or member of the faculty who wishes to go may secure a ticket from him for 25c.

Half Of Graduates Transfer To U. C. L. A.

Students transferring from Santa Ana junior college to other schools make better grades there than they did here is the interesting fact revealed by reports sent to the college.

Reports from Occidental college and the University of Redlands for last semester support this statement.

This information is computed on grade point ratios rather than by better grades using 1.00 (C), 2.00 (B), and 3.00 (A). The figures represent the average of the grades of all the students.

The students attending Redlands averaged 1.08 at Santa Ana and made 1.46 there. Average raise equal to a raise from a C average to C plus. A raise from 1.17 (C) made here to 1.73 (B minus) is reported by Occidental college.

Youth's Companion Offers Scholarship

The "Youth's Companion" is announcing a four year scholarship at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the cash value of the scholarship is one thousand six hundred dollars.

All entrants must be between the ages of seventeen and twenty-two, and may be resident anywhere in the United States or Canada. The entrant is not subjected to an examination, but must satisfactorily meet the following requirements:

(1) He must submit a 200 word letter on the subject "Why I Should Like a Technical Education."

(2) He must satisfy the awarding committee of his ability to enter the this Institute, if selected.

(3) Finally, he must submit three original projects which will indicate that he has ability in some branch of science, engineering, or construction.

Famed Actor-Singer Appears Here Soon

Thomas Askin, famous actor and singer, will present a program at an assembly April 10, under the auspices of the junior college faculty.

Mr. Askin will sing a number of songs accompanied by Mrs. Askin. He will also entertain with a talk and some readings. Mr. Askin has studied in Italy several years.

FROSH TO BE HOSTS OF SOPHS AT DANCE

That the frosh will be hosts to the sophomores at a dance, scheduled for Saturday, April 20, was announced by Stewart McPherson, social commissioner, at the weekly meeting of the executive board last Monday afternoon.

At this meeting it was also decided that the matter of renovating the Constitution to fit the conditions of the college better be investigated. Each commissioner was appointed to investigate the parts of the Constitution pertaining to their work.

Louis Romoff, basketball manager, was awarded a letter. President White called attention to the fact that all club finances are to be handled through the school bank. Unless the clubs do this they are not properly authorized as college clubs.

White also gave a report on matters brought up at a recent president's meeting. The board agreed to work in cooperation with club presidents in making drives for more members, so that there will not be so many students who are not affiliated with any college activity.

Fifty Couples At St. Patrick's Dance

Shamrocks and vari-colored balloons hung from the ceiling formed the proper St. Patrick background for the annual Ladies Choice dance held last Saturday evening at the Ebell club.

Fifty couples danced to the music furnished by the Southland Six orchestra. Between dances, Sally Coe entertained with several tap dances. Dorothy McDonald sang two popular numbers, and Thelma Dugan gave two readings.

Green punch was served throughout the evening with two high school girls presiding at the punch tables. Favors for the women were corsages of green flowers and fern, while the men were given clay pipes.

Deans Of Women Of Nine Colleges Meet

The Deans of Women of nine junior colleges in Southern California met in Fullerton last Thursday for the purpose of forming an organization of women deans apart from the deans of four year colleges.

The meeting was called by Ina Hawes, dean of women of Pasadena junior college, and commissioner of women's activities of the Southern California junior college association.

The deans of women formed an organization and adopted a constitution. Officers elected were Mrs. Ulysses Moyes, of Glendale, president; and Miss Ida Hawes, secretary-treasurer.

Matters discussed at the meeting were housing, the "part time" girl, and college social life and activities.

Mrs. Litchfield, dean of women of Fullerton junior college, served tea to the deans assisted by women students of the college.

The colleges represented were Riverside, San Bernardino, Compton, Citrus Union, Fullerton, Pasadena, Long Beach, Glendale and Santa Ana.

College Orchestra Makes Debut Today

Under the direction of S. J. Mustol, the junior college orchestra will make its first public appearance of the year when it plays for the assembly in the auditorium at 1:00 today.

Melva Fletcher, appearing in appropriate costume, will offer several vocal selections. Charles Haas will also entertain with vocal solos. Everard Stovall, a student of Earl Fraiser, will give a number of piano numbers.

The assembly is given by the Don staff with Adelaide Mueller, editor, in charge.

Three Of Faculty Attend Convention

Three members of the Junior college faculty: D.K. Hammond, McKee Fisk, and Miss Martin will attend the Secondary school convention March 25-29 at Oakland. There will also be a convention of music teachers which Miss Martin will attend. Two days will be devoted to the discussion of junior colleges.

Presidents Make Survey Of College Activities Here

That of the 456 students enrolled in junior college, 172 students have no affiliation with any activity in this college, was the fact made known to club presidents at their meeting last Wednesday evening.

Delmer Brown, who was appointed at the last presidents meeting to investigate club memberships, presented a most interesting and enlightening report, concerning participation in extra curricular activities, the number of students holding offices, and the manner in which clubs are capitalizing on the experience students received while in high school.

There are 131 students taking part in one activity, 82 taking part in two activities, 38 have affiliations with three activities, 20 are members of four activities, 11 participate in five activities, and one student is a member of six activities. This leaves 172 students who participate in no activities, including clubs, debates, dramatics, athletics.

In the second report, Delmer Brown said that the number of offices in all extra curricular activities for both semesters totals 201. The offices are divided into major and minor offices, the major offices including offices of A. S. B. and leaders of important clubs and activities. The offices of secretary, treasurer, vice-president are classed as minor offices.

Of the 201 offices, 56 are classed as major offices, and 144 as minor offices. Forty eight students hold one office, 11 hold three offices, seven hold four offices, three hold five offices, two hold six offices, and one student is a holder of seven offices. The number of students in one major office is 28, while eight hold two major offices and four hold three major offices.

Two new clubs, the Literary club and Chorea club were welcomed by President White. During the dinner hour the club presidents reported on the future activities of their clubs.

Spring Vacation To Begin April 1

Preceding the final quarter of the college year will be spring vacation, scheduled from Monday, April 1, to Monday, April 8. This is the last vacation before June.

Mid-terms will come next week beginning Wednesday, March 27, lasting thru Friday, March 29. These examinations will be one hour long, and can be taken any time scheduled by the teachers. Blue books will be furnished, the twenty-five cent fee paid at the beginning of the semester covering the expense.

Editorial Comment

Something New

The Don has started two new features with this issue which promise to be of both interest and value to Don students. The first of these, COLLEGE COMMENT, written by Juliet Evans, will include topics and discussion pertaining to college students.

The second new feature is a column of Book Review, something that has long been lacking in the Don. Kenneth Warren will write these book reviews. Mr. Warren reads extensively and his reviews will be helpful in selecting books for reading.

Get Busy!

Something must be done about those one hundred and seventy-two college students who claim no affiliation whatsoever with any college activity. This condition which is indeed anything but a credit to the college, can be easily remedied if club presidents would gather up enough initiative to look up the high school interests of these people, and then get them interested in the same activity in college. They would in all probability be amazed to discover that their clubs could be made much more interesting and beneficial by getting some of these members.

The club presidents can only lead this movement of getting all students interested in some activity. It is up to the entire associated students to work in unison so that all junior college students may be a partaker of some activity on our campus.

College Comment

Why should the girls moan about dates to dances when they are either too bashful or too proud to ask the men of the college when it's their turn to date? Saturday night the A. W. S. had a dance at the Ebell club house, and possibly fifty couples attended and of those couples about half the men were impacts. Of course several of the girls go with outside men, but nevertheless, the J. C. men would probably have enjoyed the dance too. I don't see how the girls can feel put out when the J. C. men date high school or outside girls, after the obvious way in which the girls failed to carry out their own so-called principles. The girls had better pipe down about dates, or else try a little more to be agreeable to the men.

The track team was again beaten by an almost double score and very few of the students even go to the meets to see how their own fares.

What a Dance!

I bet a lot of the fellas wish leap year dances leaped every week. Talk about service! Why, the wimmin came, cashed, chauffeured and all that—what could be nicer—for the men?

But it was fun for a change. Only the idea of carrying green punch to a thirsty "sponge" incognito, is not what its cracked up to be. Many a fella's national anthem seemed to be "How Dry I am" until the green liquid magically disappeared through the chipped frozen water.

But the floor was slick—I'm sure of that—and the effect of a too hasty step, although not usually resulting in a complete comedown, certainly relieved one of any extra dignity—if you know what I mean.

The orchestra was peppy—that is a statement from one who is not "up" on the technique of jazz bands—but ears aren't usually deceiving.

Pipes and all that were unusual, and many a jazz hound with this vehicle of bubble blowing between his teeth, disclosed some hints of Irish ancestry which hadn't been noticed before.

Anyway, in spite of all spills, splashes, and spats, it was a whoopee time. Soire, an' I'm the mighty glad o' that!

A parlor sofa held the twain, Fair damsels and her handsome swain Heanshe!

But Hark! A step upon the stair And mother finds them sittin' mf And mother finds them sitting there He and she.

Bruff: "Rex, what is As204?"
Brown: "Can't say, but its on the tip of my tongue."
Bruff: "Spit it out. It's arsenic."

Vox Populi

Here's to our professors, and our parents. May they never meet.

We object to hearing a woman being referred to as a "skirt". There is very little reason for such a name.

Willard: "I'm goin to have my Al gol picture taken today. I hope they do me justice."

Eddie: "Yeah! Justice tempered with sympathy and mercy."

Harkleroad: "What is this?"

Another sap: "Its bean soup".

"Harky": "I don't care what it's been, what is it?"

"What is a sea horse?"

Miss Miller: "Past tense of Saw horse."

Miss Swass: "Have you any questions on the lesson today?"

Groos: "Yeah. What is it?"

Miss Martin: "Please run up the curtain Charles".

Charles Haas: "Certainly, How far shall I go?"

W. A. A. Members To Have Pirate Party

Dressed as jolly, bold pirates, members of the W. A. A. will hold their annual hockey spread on "Pleasure Island" at 5:30 next Monday evening. All members of the W. A. A. and all girls who have participated in this season's hockey have been invited. Twenty-five cents is being charged to cover the cost of the "eats".

As the W. A. A. cabinet has been working on plans for this affair for almost a month, it is expected to be one of the most enjoyable socials of the year. No elaborate costuming is wanted, but all girls are to dress in a manner suggestive of the bold pirates who once roamed the seas.

A program fitting for the entertainment of pirates will be presented by bold members of the crew, and the "eats" will be of true pirate fare. Captain Kidd will be present in person, and it is rumored that he will disclose the whereabouts of his buried treasure and will lead the search for its recovery.

Ruth and Naomi Bulpitt, and Teddy Mueller, all U. C. L. A. students, were among the alumni seen at the dance.

Play To Feature Next French Club Meet

Shades of Saint Patrick, as personified by Rex Brown, will be the amusement afforded the L' Hotel de Ramboillet club tomorrow afternoon in a play, "Le Chagrin du Saint Patrick", written by Corinne Nelson.

Music and French games will also be featured on the program. Ellen Schnebley and Sherril Spurgeon will offer a duet number. Rose Marie Smith will play a violin solo.

Rex Brown will take the part of Saint Patrick in the play; Ruth Tantlinger and Josephine Ball, angels; and Roy Curry, a messenger.

Ruth Ann Walker went to L. A. Saturday where she did some work at the library.

Mr. Bruff made the remark that some classrooms remind him of a barn full of milk cows, all chewing their cud.

Art Corner

Plans are now being made for the addition of an 'art corner' to the campus, according to Mrs. S. Marie McKeown, college art instructor. The corner will be located just south of the science building, and will be artistically laid out in flowers and plants, donated by the art students.

The students will use the new art nook to sketch and paint, and it is expected to prove an inspiration to them. Miss Hazel Bemus, head of the art department at Julia Lathrop junior high school, has offered to donate some cactus plants to the enterprise.

Ruth Bradley attended the dance at the Rendevouz Saturday evening.

Frances Brown spent Sunday in Long Beach where she attended a very good show.

BOOK REVIEW

By KENNETH WARREN

The Revolt in the Desert" by Thomas E. Lawrence

Some time ago an item in the newspaper again called to mind the great British war hero, T. E. Lawrence. Since the Great War he has secluded himself from the eyes of the world by going under an assumed name and living as a private in the British army. At the close of the war he wrote a book entitled, "The Revolt in the Desert", a book which shows the breadth of his knowledge of Arabia and how he led the Arabs to freedom by his operations. Perhaps because the book is historical it has not been widely read, but those who do will find a stirring book filled with adventure and self-sacrifice. T. E. Lawrence is a great author as shown by his good, forceful style and his ability to write so great a book. Those who read this book will come to know the author and better understand why he follows such a life as he does since the war.

MY LABORATORY PARTNER

By OBERON

If a man ever gets tired of hearing things, it is hearing a girl talk about herself. I realize how she feels but I also wish that she would keep her feelings to herself.

When my partner is not talking about her many experiences, she is asking questions. I know that the way to gain knowledge is to ask questions, but if that adage is true my laboratory partner is the wisest girl in the world. I honestly believe that she stays awake at night to figure out questions to ask. I do not see how any one person would want to know so much. In the course of a laboratory period, there are numerous drawings to be made. Every little pencil mark I make my partner has to know what it is and why I put it there. In labeling my drawings it is necessary for me to consult my manual in order to gain information. My female partner waits until I have finished drawing and labeling my drawings and then she calmly takes it from under my nose and copies it. In the meantime I have to sit around and wait. When my partner is not copying my drawing, she is using my pencil or asking me for an eraser. All of these things I must take as though I enjoyed, all because she is a woman and my laboratory partner.

If there is anything that I do not mind doing it is working for a beautiful girl. A beautiful girl is created to lord over men and to command them. I can see no more reason why I should be an exception to that rule.

My partner is anything but beautiful. She has, what I would call, burnt copper hair, freckles, an insipid grin and laugh, and almost everything that goes to make an unattractive girl. If she would stay her distance I should admire her for it, but she, like most unattractive girls, keeps herself in the spot light of attention by telling of her numerous engagements to go out evenings, and of her multitude of gentlemen admirers.

Don Track Team Loses Third Dual Meet To Glendale, 88-93. Guyer Wins 100 And 220 From Slocum

Meeting again some real competition, the Santa Ana Don tracksters went down to another inglorious defeat at the hands of the Glendale cinderpathmen by a 88 to 43 score.

One of the most interesting events in the meet came when Captain Maurice "Red" Guyer easily stamped his way to victory in both dashes, over Russell "Buzz" Slocum the Glendale ace. Slocum was highly favored by his friends and teammates but he didn't even seem to be in the same class with our "fleetfooted flash". It will be interesting to know that Slocum is a member of the world's fastest prep relay team and capable of record beating time. (So his admirers say).

A freakish thing happened when the 100-yard dash was to be run; the timer gave a false start and tried to call the boys back, but his gun wouldn't work so the race proceeded. Slocum got a huge lead but lost the race by yards to Guyer. Later, the race was run over and Guyer again easily won to the time of 9.8 sec.

Jaycee Women Lose Net Tilts To Chaffey

An invitational girls tennis meet was played with Chaffey J. C. last Friday afternoon. Although the Santa Ana players put up a good fight and played many a good game, none of them were able to take a match from their opponents.

Alice Prather, playing third singles, lost by the same score of 6-0, 6-2. First doubles was played by Catherine Jessup and Doris Goff, who lost 6-3, 6-0. Frances Larrabee and Katherine Markel lost second doubles, 6-3, 6-2.
